Moscow Reports Great Gain in Live for Minsk

Town of Borisov Declared Taken

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM

LONDON, June 30 (AP)—The Red Army's rout of German forces in the Russia mounted to historic proportions today as Moscow announced that German losses in the week of the Soviet summer offensive were 183,930 killed or captured, and the fighting carried all the way from inside the former center of Poland on the north to the center of Pripyat marshes on the south.

At least one sector Red troops less than thirty miles from Minsk, and the communiques announced the capture of Novoselki, the railway thirty-two miles east of the White Russian capital.

The full extent of the German advance was made known in a specification by Moscow, which said that the first White Russian fighting for Bobruisk had 50,000 and captured 23,680 the second White Russian army in took Mogilev killed 30,000 and 23,250.

Dupled with figures announced yesterday for the third White Russian and the first Baltic armies, dead alone in the week's operations amounted to 122,000.

German losses in equipment over the period were equally staggering. Moscow said the Germans during the week had lost 40 tanks and 3,449 guns of various calibers, 3,776 mortars, 16,054 machine-guns and 29,662 trucks.

Part of this damage which was accounted for by the two armies fighting from bases north and south of the Bobruisk-Mogilev sector.

German losses in equipment amounted to 446 tanks and self-propelled guns, 3,073 other guns, 3,776 mortars, 8,464 machine-guns, 29,662 trucks.

Announce Big Advances
The regular nightly communiques announced big advances for the first forces all through White Russia as the German defenses crumbled into nothing.

In the north of this flaming front, Ivan C. Bagration's first Baltic army plunged across the Old Prussian border and took the frontier town of Dinsla, twenty-two miles from the Polish.

On the south, Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky's first White Russian army captured the vital railhead of Slutsk and took more than one hundred populated places, including the railway stations, which were the entire line all the way to its junction with the railroad between Minsk and Bobruisk.

Canyon Gives Up Parachutists

GRAND CANYON, Ariz., June 30 (AP)—Nine days after they floated by emergency parachute into the depths of the Grand Canyon, three army airmen today clambered back of the mile-deep gorge, safe and well.

They were guided to safety by a veteran climber who descended the ninth run through a deep crevice sighted from the air. Three rescue parties were frustrated by the boiling waters of the Colorado river and rock walls of the gorge.

The fliers, Second Lt. Charles E. Blum, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Flight Officer Maurice J. Crickshaw, Lawrence, Mass.; and Cpl. Roy Embanks, Kalspell, Mont., were in physical examinations before they set down to an army-prepared camp at the north rim entrance of national park.

They were fireman First Class Paul John De Gullini, husband of a Bernice De Gullini and Ensign William Henry Newman Shure, son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Perree Shure.

Fewer New Motor Cars: Deep Cut in Ration Allowance Announced; More Tires Allowed

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—A deep new cut in the ration allowance of new passenger cars was ordered tonight, following announcement of the complete removal of inner tubes from rationing and a slight increase in the number of tires for motorists.

The Office of Price Administration said it would release only 7,000 new automobiles in July from the nation's dwindling supply of motor cars. The number is twenty-two per cent under the June quota and thirty percent under May.

Only 30,000 new cars remain to meet all needs until the government can permit the resumption of automobile production, OPA said. This is a three-day supply in normal times. About 530,000 cars were in stock when manufacture stopped.

In a more welcome action, OPA ordered that motorists, effective tomorrow, may go directly to dealers when tubes are needed, without applying to local ration boards.

With a smoothness that sustained Gov. Dewey's assertions that unusual harmony prevails in the party, the Republican national committee unanimously elected the 40-year-old Brownell, who managed Dewey's 1942 gubernatorial campaign, as its chairman.

Winding up two days of intensive conference with party leaders, Dewey prepared to take a train tonight for Albany, accompanied by Mrs. Mrs. Dewey, Brownell, J. Russell Sprague, New York national committeeman; Edwin F. Jaekle, state chairman, and about thirty reporters and photographers.

Appearing before the national committee, Dewey pledged "a gigantic effort in this campaign toward the saving of the republic and the winning of the war."

He told members, who helped nominate him Wednesday, that he could expect "all the busy propaganda agencies of the national government to direct their efforts toward a division of our party."

"You may be sure they are experts on division," he said, "they have been creating the impression of a divided American people a good many years but they are not going to succeed in dividing us."

Declaring that party harmony was greater than he had ever seen it before, Dewey said he had consulted by telephone with Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, the vice-presidential nominee, and that the choice of the new national committee chairman was unanimous.

New Post for Spangler Brownell, named by a voice vote, immediately announced the appointment of Harrison E. Spangler of Iowa, the retiring chairman, as general counsel for the committee, succeeding Henry P. Fletcher of Pennsylvania.

Other officers elected included three new vice-chairmen, Werner W. Schroeder, of Illinois, Mrs. Horace Sayre of Oklahoma, and Mrs. Katherine K. Brown of Ohio. Ezra R. Whitla of Idaho was re-elected vice chairman.

Jouett Ross Todd of Kentucky was named treasurer to succeed Senator Sinclair Weeks of Massachusetts. Harold W. Mason of Vermont was elected secretary.

Dewey, Brownell Open Campaign To Unseat FDR

Governor To Fight To Save Republic

CHICAGO, June 30 (AP)—The team of Thomas E. Dewey and Herbert Brownell Jr., went into action officially tonight in an attempt to enlarge its feat of winning the New York governorship into a presidential victory.

Brownell told reporters in a subsequent news conference that he planned to go to work "immediately" to direct the Dewey campaign.

Dewey is expected to arrive in Albany at 11:24 a. m., eastern time Saturday.

Nimitz Reports Americans Lost 9,752 on Saipan

Highest Price Paid in Pacific

By LEIF ERICKSON

UNITED STATES PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, PEARL HARBOR, June 30 (AP)—Americans battling on Saipan have paid the highest price so far in the Pacific—9,752 killed, wounded and missing in two weeks—for one-half of a small but highly important island of the Marianas.

The grim figures, announced today by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, were: dead, 1,474; wounded, 7,400; missing, 878.

The total was far more than double that at bloody Tarawa in the Gilberts last November, when 3,583 Americans were killed or wounded in seventy-six hours.

It more than doubled the losses on Guadalcanal in six months of warfare—3,767.

The battle was the bitter fighting that has wrested half of rugged Saipan from the Japanese also have been heavy. Nimitz said no accurate estimate was possible but 4,951 Japanese dead already had been buried. Many dead or wounded had been removed by the Japanese as they retreated.

As at Tarawa, which up to that time was the most costly victory in Marine corps history—the losses on Saipan were heaviest among the Marine assault force. The total, covering the period from the invasion June 14 through last Wednesday, included 1,289 killed in action. At Tarawa 968 Marines lost their lives.

Army dead on Saipan totaled 185.

The wounded included 6,377 Marines and 1,023 army men. Missing were 827 Marines and fifty-one army men.

Despite difficult terrain and intensified resistance, American ground forces scored new gains at the center of the island-wide battle-line and on the eastern or right flank. Nimitz reported a dominating position had been occupied near the mountain town of Charan Danhill, on the eastern end of the front.

Chinese Reported Holding Hengyang

Chinese Reported Holding Hengyang

By SPENCER MOOSA

CHUNGKING, June 30 (AP)—The vital rail junction of Hengyang is encircled by three Japanese divisions but still is in Chinese hands, a Chinese army spokesman said in a statement today.

The spokesman said the city, which was using poison gas against the defenders of the city, loss of which would remove the last major Chinese position along the entire length of the Canton-Hankow railway.

The Tokyo radio broadcast a dispatch of Domei Japanese agency dated yesterday "in the suburbs of Hengyang" telling of the fall of the American air base in the area last Monday. This was admitted yesterday in a communique of Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters.

Another Tokyo broadcast said the city of Hengyang was in flames since Wednesday.

Maj. Gen. C. C. Tseng said that captured field orders showed that a Japanese column which tried to bypass Hengyang on the east had as its objective the railway town of Leiyang, about thirty-five miles south-southeast of Hengyang. He said this column was halted north of Anjen, thirty-eight miles east-southeast of Hengyang.

Gen. Tseng admitted the probability that the Japanese, if they occupied Hengyang completely, probably would strike southwest toward Kwelin, provisional capital of Kwangsi province, and south toward the Canton area in Kwangtung province, to complete the conquest of the Canton-Hankow railway.

Tonight's Chinese communique said only that "sanguinary fighting" was continuing on all sides of Hengyang throughout yesterday and today, with heavy losses on both sides, and that heavy fighting also raged on both the east and west banks of the Siang river, without any change.

Johnson Becomes Leading U. S. Ace

Johnson Becomes Leading U. S. Ace

By JAMES M. LONG

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Saturday, July 1 (AP)—A great armored battle raged south of Caen last night as the British drove on toward the Orne river and Germans threw in veteran troops as fast as they reached the front in a reckless attempt to stop the Allied advance.

A supreme headquarters communique said the Allied drive pressing the Germans back toward the Orne had "compelled the enemy to throw in strong armored reserves." Front line dispatches said that these included every armored division the Germans have in Normandy, and that among the troops were veterans of the war in Russia.

Allied Positions Improved
"In spite of repeated counterattacks by these formations," the communique declared, "our positions not only have been held but were improved."

As clouds lifted over the flaming battle front, Allied war planes bombed and strafed enemy positions and communications and by mid-afternoon had made 1,000 individual flights.

German broadcasts said a United States tank division had entered the battle south of Caen, that United States troops north of St. Lo—far to the west—had denied the German lines and that a "new large-scale American offensive is imminent."

The British steadily widened their bridgehead across the Orne river and were within eleven miles of having Caen encircled. It was probable that Allied artillery now commanded the last four German-held roads into that communications hub.

Nazis Seem Desperate
A British officer described as "reckless" the use of German reserves piecemeal as soon as they reached the front, and said that the enemy now was putting up the most desperate defense since United States troops cut the Cherbourg peninsula.

DBN, the German news agency, said that Guevres, on the right flank of Allied positions below the Orne, had been recaptured by the Germans.

At Caen in the battle for Caen was access to the open country in the south which would permit the Allies to employ their superior armor more freely.

German Command Worried
The costly Nazi counterattacks on the Southwest front showed the German high command's concern. At one time the enemy drove a wedge one-mile into the base of the Allied positions, but the attack was broken by a storm of artillery fire. The British then swept back and widened their salient.

With the initiative still firmly in his hands, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery then struck both east, heavily toward Caen, deepening the salient between the Orne and Orre rivers. An enemy broadcast reported a concentration of three British infantry and three tank divisions southwest of Caen and said "it can be assumed that Montgomery expects a decisive breakthrough here."

Control of Jobs
Starts Tomorrow
WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—Employment controls designed to make use of the available labor supply become operative on a nationwide scale tomorrow with mandatory officials. Up to 200,000 new workers can be attracted into essential industry.

By co-operative action of both workers and employers, all males except farmers will be required to be hired through the United States Employment Service or agencies it designates. War Relocation Commission, Paul McNulty says, the plan has worked effectively for some time in certain light labor areas.

Women in many communities are included under the hiring controls through decisions of local manpower officials.

A blast at the plan came from Rep. Butler (R-Neb.) who termed it "a contemplated mass shift of workers between cities and extensive job recruitment a 'desperate step toward slave labor battalions' against the will of Congress. His remarks appeared in the congressional record cited by McNulty's national service unit."

Germany Throw Veteran Troops Against British

Allies Improve Their Positions

Low-Priced Utilities Lead Stock Market in Lively Recovery Move

By VICTOR EUBANK
NEW YORK, June 30 (AP)—The stock market today closed the books on June with a lively recovery move in low-priced utilities and specialties, a come-back of the rails and selective strength for scattered "blue chips."

The revival of junior power and light company issues was credited mainly to brightening Republican hopes. War news and peace-time business prospects stimulated others.

Rising tendencies generally predominated after a steady opening and advances of fractions to 2 or more points were in the majority when the curtain was rung down on the session. Volume was enhanced by large blocks of so-called "penny" performers.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was up 2 of a point at 53.5. Transfers totaled 1,750,030 shares compared with 1,889,640 the day before.

At peaks for the year or longer were American Telephone, U. S. Steel, American Water Works, Bethlehem, Standard Gas preferred, Panhandle Producing, Amerasia, Thompson-Starrett, York Corp., U. S. Lines, Lehigh Valley Coal and Armour Ahead were Electric Power & Light, Columbia Gas, National Power & Light, International Harvester, General Motors, Allied Chemical, Certain-Tied preferred, Santa Fe, Atlantic Coast Line, Baltimore & Ohio, Delaware & Hudson, Great Northern and Northern Pacific.

Chrysler slipped along with Willys-Overland, Kennebec, Hudson Motors, Goodrich, du Pont, Hayes Mfg., Budd Mfg. and Eastern Kodak.

Scranton Spring Brook water limited 8 points in the curb. Higher also were Samson-United, Mountain States Power, Electric Bond & Share, American Gas and Carrier Corp. Turnover here was 509,285 shares versus 43,945 yesterday.

The bond market was irregular in its overall performance but the list had many strong spots at the close, reflecting further quiet buying of investment rated issues and continued speculative demand for secondary rails.

Transactions amounted to $7,829,000 face value against 7,140,900 the previous session.

The Gage for Youth
 Has Been Taken Up

AS this newspaper has declared, the national campaign which is now under way and which will culminate in the election of a president, a vice president, the entire membership of the House of Representatives and thirty-two senators four months hence, will determine the future America as has no election in recent times.

Thomas E. Dewey has pledged himself, and his party's platform parallels his sentiments, to all-out military effort to crush the nation's enemies and bring the American boys home victorious at the earliest possible moment. That, of course, is paramount to all else.

But victory on the field of battle must be followed by progress on the home front. Progress toward a reanchoring of government on the solid rock of the constitution, progress toward prosperity and employment for all who seek it, under a revitalized system of free enterprise and private initiative and opportunity.

This philosophy of a forward-looking—but free—America was reiterated many times at the Republican convention. If elected, Dewey will be the youngest man—with the sole exception of Theodore Roosevelt—ever to occupy the White House. A youthful outlook characterizes all his words and actions.
 His approach to a solution of the problems of war and peace is that of youth.

The campaign which is now under way will be a campaign of youth which proclaims its eternal right to freedom and liberty and opportunity, versus aged, decrepit, moribund bureaucracy. One-man government, the right of a ruling class to dictate to every man his daily actions, the right of those who run the government to dissipate every man's earnings, a system of government under which the common man exists only to pay taxes, has never appealed to American youth. The approaching election will present an opportunity for American youth to reject these alien, autocratic ideologies.

In his clear and convincing exposition of the issues of war and peace, as he accepted the Republican nomination for president, Governor Dewey made a deep impression upon the consciences of his countrymen.
 Millions have felt as he feels, but they lacked the words to say what was in their minds and, until now, they lacked a champion to battle effectively for their ideals and to challenge those who, in their arrogance and conceit, have presumed to usurp upon themselves autocratic power over their fellowmen, which has no claim to legitimacy under the constitution of the United States.
 But, if the gaze thrown down to youth has been picked up, this does not necessarily mean that the elders have been shelved. Their counsel and wisdom based upon experience are needed also, is appreciated and is taken as a matter of course. But they will welcome the revived interest and activity of the younger element not only for what it will be able to contribute but also as further evidence of the growing strength of the Republican party.

Pay-Roll Padding
 For the Election

THE ADAGE about the coming events that cast their shadows before is again demonstrated by the figures on federal civil employes given the Senate in a report from the Joint Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures by its chairman, Senator Byrd. The report in this case is the November election, in anticipation of which the New Deal is again using taxpayers' money in the interests of its perpetuation.

The federal pay-rollers continue to increase progressively, according to the report submitted by Senator Byrd. The total number of paid civilian employes as of April was 3,365,460, but this included 288,563 civilian employes of the War department stationed outside continental United States, as of last December 31, so for purposes of comparison, Senator Byrd has eliminated these so as to leave the total of civilian employes in the various departments of the government at 3,016,897.

During the last four months covered by the report there was a steady increase in civil service employes. In January there was a net increase of 8,951, the report states; in February a net increase of 3,237; in March a net increase of 13,986 and in April a like increase of 12,277. In March a net increase for the period of 47,619. These figures, Byrd stated, do not include a single man in uniform doing clerical work, nor any of the thousands of WAVES, WACs, SPARS and like women auxiliaries who are performing clerical work.

"With the necessities of war and navy and the chairman of the Maritime Commission advocating a national service law, with the induction into the armed services of pre-Pearl Harbor fathers and agricultural workers," Senator Byrd said, "it is an outstanding fact that the United States government has significantly failed to efficiently utilize the great reservoir of manpower represented in the more than 3,000,000 civil service employes in the country."

The senator noted that attention to this appalling waste of manpower had been called by him on the floor of the Senate and elsewhere time and time again, and that he had wonced the War Manpower Commission as long ago as last September, but that nothing has been done about it either by the WMC or the Civil Service Commission.

"During this desperate war crisis," the senator said, "I think the failure to utilize the fullest and most effective measure the government personnel is little short of a national shame. Why should not the federal government make the same sacrifices in the supervision of the government personnel as it makes in the supervision of the government property?"

Chief Battleground for the Republicans

CHICAGO, June 30.—They were Republicans, of course, delegates to a Republican national convention.
 Hence their wishes about the coming presidential election would be strongly biased. But it is not necessary to assume that their judgments about the outcome would be biased—they are realists, most of them, and because they are delegates to a national convention they are likely to have exceptional knowledge of political conditions in their districts. From what they said in private conversations, however, and others gathered certain prevailing impressions.

Air Supremacy Is

BERLIN SUPERMEN admit privately according to reports from neutral listening posts in Europe, that Allied air superiority has placed them under the most serious handicaps. German transport behind the lines is disrupted and can function only during the darkness of night. In daytime only the most urgent traffic is maintained.

Truck and tractor drivers fight their way through a rain of bombs and German divisions on the march in daylight are sorely beset. German airfields are perforated by bombs that have churned the ground into a mass of mud. Allied airmen blow up rail and highway bridges, making transport conditions extremely difficult.

So overworked is the Luftwaffe that on a recent day one squadron had to make twenty-two take-offs.
 Goering is trying to appease his fliers too, are working from dawn to Chaos behind the German lines, British lines in 1940. But it is becoming worse as German air strength continues to decline.

Children Pick on Me

By MARSHALL MASLIN

I've heard that you can't fool a child. The instant one looks at an adult, that infant knows all about the grown-up. I can't see how a baby that's so irresponsible that he will stick beans up his nose and try to eat an onion can know so much.
 But it may be true.

And if it is true, I'd like to know what babies in arms, crawling infants and all other children up to the age of six are really thinking about when they look at me. My own private idea is that they think I'm a punching bag.

Many a time I've innocently bent over a baby's carriage and then wished I hadn't. All I did was look at a cute little baby and what did it do to me. He stared solemnly at me for five seconds, then his face fractured into a gurgle and he reached out a fat, moist thumb and stuck it into my eye. I swear I hadn't done a thing, hadn't grinned or winked or said a word—but I got a thumb in my eye just the same.

I'm grey for all of them. The word must have gone around that I'm an easy mark and will stand for anything. Little boys look me over and suddenly make flying tackles at my knees. . . . Perhaps it's my ears. I can't be my grey hair. . . . Sometimes they try to tear even that out by the roots. They call me funny names like Mr. Gee-See or Mr. Good-Bye. They want to straddle and fight and play tag. They tickle me and giggle and they keep it up for hours until I'm worn out. I want to quit and can't.
 They won't let me. And sooner or later somebody gets hurt and who is it that gets hurt? . . . It's me. I get that thumb in my eye, my hair all mussed up, I perspire and I get a twisted finger or skinned knee.
 Lots of fun, huh?

And do I mind it? I confess with poorly hidden vanity that I do not.
 I like it. Somehow it flatters me.
 I've reached the point where I expect it and when the babies stop doing it my feelings will be hurt—and I'll know that I'm an old, old gentleman who is of no use at all.

Babson Predicts
 Good Five-Year
 Postwar Period

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass., June 30.— While I have built my business on the long-pull outlook, I ordinarily confine my newspaper predictions to periods of not more than a year in advance. However, in view of the very broad changes which are taking place in United States business and political economy, I now feel it advisable to look much further ahead.

Renegotiation in most instances is not the wolf that most war producers thought it would be. Re-conversion to peacetime operations is, likewise, well in hand. While this may temporarily disrupt labor and interfere with profits, the change-over will be gradual and is already under way. It should not adversely affect business or the stock market. Hence, for the first few years after the formal ending of World War II, good business in most lines should be in order.

Decline from Peak

Industrial activity and production during the postwar period should run about fifty per cent above pre-war figures but will, of course, show a decrease from the peak of war production. This drop, however, is already being absorbed in many lines without fuss for the peak in war production was reached almost a year ago.

National income, represented by wages, rents, interest, dividends, etc., will probably average around $12,- 000,000,000 per year. This will support a large volume of business.
 Living costs may rise twenty-five per cent but if so those who now purchase well selected securities may perhaps get enough capital gains to offset increased living costs.

Sales To Be Big

With a high level of national income, plus accumulated savings, I cannot see anything except a very large volume of retail sales. Such sales have expanded greatly during the war, but I believe in the postwar years that they may exceed in dollars their wartime peak. Plans for the renewal of automobile production are being carefully worked out. A year or two after the war, production may approach 6,000,000 cars a year for two or three years.
 In addition, all sorts of household appliances, home furnishings, automobile accessories and other hard goods, along with an abundance of soft goods, will be available. These all will be in great demand.
 Much Home Building
 I fully expect, in the decade after the war, to see close to 5,000,000 new homes built. This will naturally be a great thing for both skilled and unskilled labor and should do much to keep up activity in the cement industries, which last will also benefit from our new road-building program. Homes are currently in great demand and prices —particularly in suburban communities—are expanding rapidly. It looks very much as though we would experience a real building boom.

This is likewise true of productive real estate in general. I cannot now say that the entire country will participate in a land boom, but Florida, the Southwest and California now seem headed in that direction.

Distress in 1950

After the immediate and inevitable readjustments which the end of the war will bring, businessmen should not be too much concerned about worrying over the following four years. Our real problem and task will be to determine how our coming prosperity can be extended after 1950. In the early 1950's we will begin to see signs of distress.
 It will be much harder then for business to provide reasonably full employment within the limits of our free enterprise system. Furthermore, the postwar inflation which many are now worrying about may take place at that time.

Preparation Necessary

We shall not always be able to depend upon Washington to maintain our property or to provide a solution to our economic problems.
 Beyond the postwar decade, the future depends upon the character and education of our young people and upon the intelligent and far-sighted guidance of us parents and grandparents.

Yes, I am optimistic for the next five years, but during that period we should prepare for another era of declining real estate, bond, stock and commodity prices, accompanied by general unemployment after 1950.

The appeal by the nation's three top military commanders for all-out devotion on the home front to the job of winning the war is a ringing announcement to the enemy that the grapple has begun.

It is also a formal and solemn warning to the public that the final campaigns are the hardest, that they demand of soldier and worker more sustained effort than all the preparations.

Complacency not Charged

Despite its complacency in some respects to previous official blasts against "complacency" at home, the appeal contained in the report to President Roosevelt by General Marshall, Admiral King and General Arnold was not an accusation of complacency.

Nevertheless, these military leaders are seriously concerned about informal reports from all sections of the country in which they find a tendency to believe that the supply job is done, that all that remains to be accomplished is quick cleanup by the armed forces in the field.

If that feeling exists as the military leaders believe it does, the reason is fairly obvious. Each day brings fresh reports of Allied success from every theater but China, Germany is on a desperate defensive on three fronts. The Japanese are aggressive in Central China, but they have the American navy at their throats in the Marianas and General MacArthur's forces on their backs in New Guinea.

Pattern Becoming Plain

The pattern of victory is becoming plain. The military commanders acknowledge that, and see in it a matter of gratification for the entire country. But they see beyond that—they see a German army of hundreds of divisions, with no shadow of a crack in its discipline, and they know that Germany is not defeated until that army is smashed. They see the Japanese being pushed, but a long way from broken.

The Allied command is committed to a war of terrific driving blows, and dreads above all else the possibility of a stalemate in the war of attrition. Their plan is a life-saving and time-saving plan—they propose to take losses in bold moves, and take them now, believing that the losses will be smaller than if the war is permitted to drag out.

 can motorist used about a forty-two gallon barrel of gasoline each month.

Socialist Victory Does Not Mean Canada Has Suddenly Gone Radical

allup Survey Shows Trend Is Actually Back to Older Parties

By DR. GEORGE GALLUP Director, American Institute of Public Opinion
PRINCETON, N. J., June 30—While the United States has given every indication of following a conservative trend on domestic matters during recent years, Canada has shown some signs of an opposite trend.

Two weeks ago the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation (CCF), a comparatively new Canadian political party with Socialistic leanings, scored a major victory in the Saskatchewan Province elections, winning forty-seven of fifty-one seats in contests against the older Liberal Party—now in power in Canada—and the Progressive-Conservative Party.

No Sudden Turn
This "loose" victory for the CCF in Saskatchewan does not mean, however, that all of Canada is taking a sudden radical turn. As a matter of fact, the CCF is not as strong throughout the Dominion as a whole today as it was eight or nine months ago.

This is shown in a special Gallup survey reported since the Saskatchewan elections. Whereas in September, 1943, the CCF stood equal in strength with MacKenzie King's Liberal Party and the Progressive Conservative Party, today it has fallen fourteen percentage points behind the Liberal Party, nine behind the Progressive-Conservative Party.

Following is a table giving the relative voting strength of the three parties today as compared with September:

| | All Voters | Sept. | TODAY | Gain or Loss |
|---------------|------------|-------|-------|-----------------|
| Liberals | 38% | 35% | 47% | +7% |
| Prog.-Cons. | 28% | 30% | 34% | +2% |
| CCF | 29% | 21% | 17% | -4% |
| Other parties | 5% | 14% | 14% | -1% |

Moreover, the survey in Canada uncovers no evidence to support a belief that the heavy CCF farm vote in agrarian Saskatchewan reflects the sentiment of farmers throughout Canada as a whole.
Quite the contrary, the present party preferences of farmers throughout the Dominion indicate a movement out of the CCF, back into the ranks of the older parties.

This may be seen in the following table:

| | Farm Vote Only | Sept. | TODAY | Gain or Loss |
|-------------|----------------|-------|-------|-----------------|
| Liberals | 32% | 40% | 48% | +8% |
| Prog.-Cons. | 29% | 34% | 35% | +5% |
| CCF | 26% | 17% | 17% | -9% |
| Others | 13% | 9% | 9% | -4% |

The CCF has likewise lost strength in recent months among the ranks of labor, dropping off five percentage points since September among union labor and six percentage points among non-union labor.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS
 Liberty Dairy 12, McIntyre Tigers 7.
 K. of C. 7, Coney Legion 7 (tie).
 Frostburg Legion 16, DeMolay 2.
 Iron Firemen 18, Cumberland Legion 2.

The Cumberland Iron Firemen and the Frostburg American Legion remained on top in the Victory Junior Baseball League race by scoring victories yesterday. The Firemen tripping the Cumberland Legion 18-2 on the North End Play ground field and Frostburg whipping Cumberland DeMolay 16-2 at Frostburg behind the no-hit pitching of Jim Yeider.

In the other battles, Liberty Dairy marked up its first victory of the campaign, whipping the McIntyre Tigers 12-7 at Campobello, and the Cumberland Knights of Columbus and Lonaconing American Legion battled to a 7-7 deadlock in a scrap at Lonaconing limited to six innings on account of darkness. Liberty Dairy made only eight hits but took advantage of the wildness of the Tiger hurlers and five McIntyre errors. Meanwhile, Ted Durbin and Miller held the Tigers to only four safeties but Durbin lashed eight bases on balls and Miller five. Miller was the winner and Dick DeHart the losing hurler.

Jim Mangus and Vernon Penner each had two hits for Liberty with one of Penner's a home run. Walt Davis accounted for two of the four.

Red Sox Regain Runnerup Berth

BOSTON, June 30 (AP)—The Red Sox regained the American League runnerup berth by overwhelming their rival Yankees from Chicago, 11-0 tonight in a twilight contest that attracted a small crowd of 3,475 paying spectators.

It was the tenth straight win of the season over Jimmy Dykes' Yankees.

A seven-hit barrage, plus two errors and three bases on balls, two of which forced in runners, gave the Red Sox about runs against the veteran Bill Dietrich during the first three innings.

Manager Joe Cronin's one-on-one homer, his fifth of the season, a double by Jimmy McBride and a wild pitch by Relief pitcher Lee Rouse gave Boston three more tallies in the seventh. The Red Sox won 11-0.

Manpower Plan

was referred, or on less urgent production.

The general standards on which priority ratings for industries and other businesses will be based are:

1. The relative essentiality to the war effort of the establishment's products or services as indicated by the Production Urgency List of the War Production Board;

2. The actual need of the establishment for additional manpower;

3. The available supply of labor in the area.

"Manpower priority may be refused to an establishment if there is evidence that the establishment requesting priority is not making reasonable efforts to solve its own manpower problems," Mr. Staley said. The regulations on the other hand "provide that priority ratings shall be reviewed at the request of the employer, and that they may be revised when ever necessary to meet changed conditions of circumstances."

Patrick J. Carroll, local office manager of the United States Employment Service, who attended the meeting of all state United States Employment Service managers to Baltimore Tuesday to discuss application of the new regulations under the national system, said that several changes have been made in the office set-up and in procedures in order to facilitate the handling of the increased load of employer orders and applicants for jobs, and that prompt service would be given every inquiry.

Manpower Plan Guiding Hiring Controls Becomes Effective in Area Today

Purpose Is To Secure Most Effective Allocation of Labor Supply for War Production

Regulations governing basic hiring controls for the Western Maryland area under the new national manpower plan which became effective at midnight, were announced yesterday by Grafton Lee Brown, assistant state director of the War Manpower Commission.

The purpose of the regulations which have been approved by the various management-labor committees in the area, is to secure the most effective allocation of the available labor supply of the area in accordance with the needs of war production, Brown said.

The chief control factor in the new plan, which affects all employers, is that all new hires must be in accordance with the plan, and in accordance with arrangements approved by it.

Female Regulations Cited

Regulations effective here apply to new female employees in these three categories:

1. Who is to be hired for work in a critical occupation or whose statement of availability indicates that her last employment was in a critical occupation.

2. Who has not lived or worked in the locality of the new employment throughout the preceding thirty-day period.

3. Whose last regular employment was in agriculture and who is to be hired for non-agricultural work exceeding six weeks in duration.

Daniel E. Staley, acting WMC area director for Western Maryland, said that United States Employment Service shall take into consideration the qualifications of the worker for the job and the relative priority rating of the job as determined on the recommendation of the manager in each local USES office which will have jurisdiction over the employment to be effected.

Salient Points Stressed

Staley noted these salient points in the regulations as they will apply on the order of referral to essential industry, when a worker may be sent to other than essential work, and when the worker is entitled to free choice of equally essential jobs.

1. To a job at his highest skill in establishments on the manpower priority list in the order of their relative priority.

2. To a job at his highest skill in industries which are essential or locally needed but not on the priority list.

3. To a job on the priority list in the order of their relative priority where he may use skill closely related to his highest skill.

4. To a job in essential or locally needed industries, not on the priority list, where he may use skill closely related to his highest skill.

A worker may be referred to other than essential or locally needed jobs only:

When the worker is not needed for any essential jobs in the area; When the worker is not needed to accept essential jobs outside the area; or

When there is a justifiable ground for the refusal of referral to an essential job.

Worker Given Choice

In case there are two or more job openings of the same priority rating for which the worker is equally qualified, he will be entitled to a free choice among such job openings.

Refusal to accept referral to a job opening does not immediately read against an applicant Staley said. However, if a worker refuses referral on grounds other than those permitted under the United States Employment Service standards, he subsequently may be referred only to jobs in the higher category of priority in which there is a current opening in his occupation (or a related skill).

The standards under which a worker may refuse a referral to a job opening and continue to be eligible for further referral are:

1. If the referral is not to a job opening in an occupation which will use his highest skill, and if such job openings are available in other priority or essential or locally needed activities or may be expected to become available within a reasonable period of time;

2. If the referral is not to a job opening in an occupation which will use a closely related skill, and if such job openings are available in other priority or essential or locally needed activities or may be expected to become available within a reasonable period of time;

3. If, as the condition of accepting the job or continuing in the offered employment, he would be required to join, resign from or refrain from joining a labor organization;

4. If the referral is to a job vacant because of a labor dispute;

5. If the wages or working conditions of the job offered are below standards fixed by applicable law;

6. If the wage rate for the job offered is less than such amount as has been determined by the War Labor Board for the industry, area, or region as necessary to avoid substantial loss of living or is less than $40 an hour;

7. If he can show that acceptance of the job offered would involve for him an undue personal hardship; In determining undue personal hardship the following are some of the factors to be taken into consideration: family circumstances, transportation, housing, working conditions, and wages on the job to which a worker is being referred as compared with his wages on his last job.

Employers Obligated To Comply

Employers are obligated to comply with the War Manpower Commission regulations in order to have workers referred to their establishments; they shall not arbitrarily or unreasonably discharge such workers or refuse to hire any qualified worker so referred, and shall refrain from using the employee on a job beneath the skill level to which he is referred.

Clothing Drive At St. Patrick's Proves Success

60 Boxes of Wearing Apparel Sent to Persons in War Zones of Italy

Sixty boxes of clothing, contributed by the parishioners, has been forwarded by St. Patrick's Catholic church, North Centre street, to War Relief headquarters, Paca street, Baltimore, for shipment to Italy where it will be distributed among the civilian population in war torn communities.

The majority of cardboard boxes were four feet long and three feet wide, and contained wearing apparel and shoes for adults, children and infants.

At the request of the Most Rev. Michael J. Curley, D. D., archbishop of Baltimore and Washington, St. Patrick's church launched its clothing campaign on June 4 and closed it on June 16.

The drive is sponsored nationally by the National Catholic Welfare Conference and collections are being conducted in Catholic churches throughout the country.

St. Peter's church, Oldtown road, and St. Mary's church, Payette street, are participating in the campaign and members of both congregations have shown an excellent response to the appeal for a most worthy cause.

The collection got under way at St. Peter's and Paul several weeks ago and approximately one truckload of clothing and shoes has been received. At St. Mary's church the response has been most gratifying and many persons have brought their contributions of clothing to the collection center in the church auditorium.

J. L. Kinsinger Is Found Dead

Body Is Discovered in Casselman River; Death Termed Accidental

By MRS. EVA BEACHY
GRANTSVILLE, June 30.—Jacob L. Kinsinger, 74, Casselman, was found dead early yesterday morning in the Casselman river, near Grantsville. Dr. E. L. Baumgartner, Grantsville, declared that death was accidental.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Bruce Folk and Mrs. Dan Folk, both of Casselman, and five sons, Daniel, Clarence and Lester Kinsinger, Casselman, and thirty grandchildren. Mr. Kinsinger's wife died four years ago.

According to Officer Blair Buckle of the State Police at Grantsville, Mr. Kinsinger's body was found by his son-in-law, Bruce Folk, at 7:30 yesterday morning. He was fully dressed and had apparently risen early to take a walk, for his bed was made and his room was in order.

Funerary services will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Memorial church in Grantsville, where Mr. Kinsinger was a lifelong member.

The youths were arrested early yesterday morning when Officer John W. Snyder, returning home after work, noticed the car speeding up North Centre street.

Guido Di Bacco, of Thomas, W. Va., arrested by Trooper Graydon S. Dunlap, was fined $5 and costs for passing another car when the way ahead was not clear on Route 40.

RECEIVE SILVER WINGS—Members of Class 44-F, including two young men from Cumberland and one from Kitzmiller, more eager than ever to join their fellow airmen in combat now that D-Day has become a reality, received their Silver pilots' wings June 27 in impressive ceremonies held at the army air field, at Lubbock, Tex. The LAAF men, representing forty states in the union, have been intensively trained for months. Included among the graduates are, (left to right), Edward L. Athey, 838 Gephart Drive, and Edwin W. Smith, 834 Windsor Road, both of Cumberland, and Robert L. Wilson, Kitzmiller.

Gas Tax, Payroll, Dogs, Flood Are Council Subjects

City Will Seek Greater Proportion of $160,000 Collected by State

Mayor Thomas S. Post yesterday proposed legislative action to secure for Cumberland greater proportion of the gasoline tax collected by the State of Maryland.

Deliveries of 4,000,000 gallons of gasoline to Cumberland was made last year for which the state received $180,000 in taxes, of which Cumberland was given $7,000, the mayor said.

Charles Z. Heskett, city solicitor, told the mayor and council that work on an agreement with the Maryland State Roads Commission to hard surface Bedford road is progressing. The commission has promised to place the Frederick street improvement project on the agenda for postwar work for which federal aid may be received.

The payroll was approved by the council after considerable discussion on William E. McCullough, playground supervisor. It was finally agreed that McCullough be paid in full, but in the future checks will be held up if the director does not devote from six to nine hours daily to the job. McDonald said he was informed that McCullough works for two local firms and said if such is the case he does not have time for playground work.

Jean Post was named a checker and John C. Clancy utility man at Constitution Park pool at salaries of $16 weekly.

Commissioner James Orr said he plans to name a second dog catcher at $80 monthly. It was proposed that Dr. P. B. McCallum, city veterinarian, be asked to speed up his work and that a check be made to determine just what he is accomplishing.

Following the recommendation of Ralph L. Rizer, city engineer, the council decided not to follow army engineer recommendations for temporary flood protection. Sand bag control and other steps proposed would be too costly and are not practical for Cumberland as the city is first flooded by water backing up in the sewers, Rizer said.

Charles Odgers Named Republican Substitute To the Election Board

Charles Odgers, Frostburg, has been appointed a substitute member of the Board of Election Supervisors of Allegany county, according to a letter received yesterday by Edgar M. Lewis, of the Republican State Central Committee, from Governor Herbert R. O'Connor.

The law provides that the appointment of substitute Republican and Democratic members to the board to serve in event regular members are absent or unable to perform their duties. Substitute members receive $10 a day for each day they are required to serve. Regular members of the board are paid an annual salary.

Marshall Wolford was recently appointed substitute Democratic member.

Odgers is a member of the Frostburg Young Men's Republican Club.

Carload of Paper Daily Is Collected In Four-day Drive

Cumberland's first monthly waste-paper collection drive, which lasted four days, was concluded yesterday with a total of fifty-five tons loaded into four B. & O. railroad box cars ready for shipment to the Container Corporation, of Philadelphia.

Emmett A. Dougherty, who was in charge of the campaign, sponsored by the Allegheny County Salvage committee, of which W. Donald Smith is chairman, said that fifty truckloads of paper were collected in the four days in Cumberland, LaVale and on the McMillen highway.

The second of the monthly collections is scheduled for the week of July 16, according to Smith.

The devotionals were conducted by Mrs. S. R. Neel, and Mrs. Merchant reviewed the book "The Shepherdess" by Arthur Hewitt. Games were played during the recreational period.

The next meeting will be held September 25, at Oldtown.

Hours Unlimited On Bass Fishing

Potomac River Is Muddy for Opening Day; Hunting Licenses Arrive

There's no restriction on the hours for bass fishing. In fact anglers can take bass from the streams in Maryland twenty-four hours a day, according to Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden.

One angler called Minke yesterday and inquired if it was within the law to start fishing at last midnight, and the regional warden told him to go ahead as the hours are not regulated.

Minke predicted there will be little bass fishing on the opening day of the season today in the Potomac river due to the muddy waters but Deep Creek lake in Garrett county is clear and a large turnout of anglers is expected there.

The creel limit on bass is ten a day and the minimum size is ten inches. The size limit on catfish and perch is eight inches while there are no restrictions on the size of blue fish.

The bass stream closest to Cumberland is Wolf creek between Corningville and State Line. Other leading streams in the county are Town Creek, Potomac river, Fifteen Mile creek and Siding creek, which is in both Allegany and Washington counties.

The season lasts five months, ending on August 30.

Hunting licenses arrived here yesterday and will be delivered today at the court house and in Garrett county. Prices are $1.25 for county licenses, $5.25 for statewide and $15 for non-resident, which are sold in large numbers in the Chesapeake bay wild water fowl area.

Allegany County Is Short $730,000 Of 'E' Bond Quota

Coffins Will Not Be Moved to Grave until Goal Is Attained

Allegany is the first county in Maryland to exceed its Fifth War Loan Drive quota of $3,000,000, but the coffins of Hitler and Tojo will not be removed to their final resting places until the county's "E" bond quota of $1,000,000 is attained, it was announced yesterday by W. Morton Peskin, chairman of the bond drive committee.

Members of the local Military Police detachment acted as "palbearers" yesterday as the coffins were moved from positions on Baltimore street between Mechanic and Liberty streets to places on Baltimore street on the west side of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad crossing.

This move came after Walter N. Ruth, executive chairman of the Maryland War Finance Committee, reported to Joseph M. Naughton, Allegany county director, that the county sales had soared to $3,279,827.

However, "E" bond sales amounted to only $270,000 against a quota for this type of bond of $1,000,000, or about twenty-seven per cent, which Peskin said is a record for the county.
